Forced Migration: Psychosocial Issues and Concerns
Invitation

Welcome you all to the 10th International Conference on Psychiatry (ICP) organized by Bangladesh Association of Psychiatrists (BAP) to be held on 09-10 December 2019, in Srimongal, Bangladesh. The theme of the conference is "Forced Migration: Psychosocial Issues and Concerns".

Scientific committee has designed the programme to provide an enriching experience for the delegates about recent advancements in psychiatry.

10th ICP will be a unique opportunity for learning, exchanging knowledge and networking with eminent international psychiatrists as well as demonstrate their national pride.

Sylhet may be the primary city in the eponymous division, but sylvan Sylhet is the undoubted star of this region. Blessed with rolling hills, carpeted with endless tea plantations, dense forest sanctuaries and sprinkling of tribal villages, this place is bound to rank amongst your most treasured experiences in Bangladesh. The town itself is small, friendly and easy to manage, but it is the surrounding countryside that is the real draw, with hiking, wildlife watching and, of course, drinking tea all high on the agenda.

Looking forward to welcome you and having a wonderful interaction in Srimongal, Bangladesh in December 2019.

With regards,

Prof Md Waziul Alam Chowdhury

Announcement

It is our great pleasure to invite you to the 10th International Conference on Psychiatry (10th ICP) organized by Bangladesh Association of Psychiatrists (BAP). The conference will be held on 09-10 December, 2019 at the Grand Sultan Tea Resort & Golf, Srimongal, Sylhet. The theme is "Forced Migration: Psychosocial Issues and Concerns".

Forced Migration is a general term that refers to the movement of refugees and internally displaced people due to conflicts within their country of origin as well as by natural or environmental disasters, famine or development projects. The outcome of such an exile is catastrophic for the immigrants as well as the native people who need emotional, physical, social and financial support. With the recent movement of Rohingya refugees, forced migration has become a great concern in our country.

Join us in the most riveting discussions and idea sharing psychiatric sessions conducted by the top experts in the field. The scientific committee of 10th ICP is committed to provide an intellectually stimulating experience to the delegates with the recent advancements, controversies and future directions of psychiatry.

The tea capital of Bangladesh, Srimongal awaits your arrival. A slice of heaven at the heart of Sylhet, its beauty and serenity is only matched by the rich culture and the warm hearts of the inhabitants. The endless bounds of lush tea gardens covering the emerald hills will provide a perfect backdrop for our conference this year. Experience the beautiful greeneries and twittering of birds with great comfort and luxury at the Grand Sultan Tea Resort & Golf.

With Best Regards,

Prof Md Faruq Alam

Welcome you all to the 10th International Conference on Psychiatry (ICP) organized by Bangladesh Association of Psychiatrists (BAP) to be held on 09-10 December 2019, in Srimongal, Bangladesh. The theme of the conference is "Forced Migration: Psychosocial Issues and Concerns".

This year Bangladesh Association of Psychiatrists is enthusiastic to work together with the esteemed members of The World Psychiatric Association (WPA). The WPA is an international association with members from numerous national psychiatric societies.

The Registration committee has begun their work on the 10th ICP. The conference will continue its tradition of displaying various, yet vital issues on mental health. We are ready to support your registration process. Please find registration details in this announcement. Moreover, it will be an excellent opportunity for the delegates to explore the sight, sound, and flavor of Sylhet. Sylhet is a magical world famous for nature, forests and wildlife, which makes it another prime destination in Bangladesh. The breathtaking views of sloping landscape wrapped with endless tea gardens will undoubtedly be the other good reason to visit Sylhet.

Join us for an exciting and learning experience in December 2019 in Srimongal, Bangladesh.

Sylhet

Sylhet, The Tea Capital of Bangladesh, is a picturesque hilly area covered with tea estates, lemon groves and pineapple gardens. Miles after miles, Sylhet Tea Estates form a green carpet on the sloping hills. A large portion of world’s highest quality tea is grown and exported from Sylhet, hence it is called the tea capital. But there is more to Sylhet than just tea. Sylhet is a magical world famous for nature, forests and wildlife, which makes it another prime Bangladesh Eco-Tourism Destination. Here it is possible to look around and not see another human being.

Visit Sylhet for breathtaking views of sloping landscape wrapped with endless tea gardens. The rolling plains lie quietly and seemingly untouched in all their splendors. Large rubber gardens and lakes of Sylhet instill a peace and tranquility in this region which attracts visitors from far and away.
